Kim Rankin and Mary Tucker : Ocean Life: Cut and Create! before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Ocean Life: Cut and Create!:

0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Nice book By Shannyn My daughter teaches classes on marine conservation and purchased several books to use with preschool through elementary schoolers. You can duplicate this book to use in the classroom or for a classroom sample.

Strengthen science learning and fine motor skills at the same time. Kids will love these charming patterns and activities, and the grown-ups who care for them will find a wide variety of opportunities to reinforce content-area knowledge. Everybody's happy, and the classroom looks great!

About the Author Kim Rankin lives in a small midwest town with her husband, Robert. They are the proud parents of two daughters, Jessica Elizabeth and Megan Emily. Kim has worked in educational publishing for the over 20 years in typesetting, design and layout. She is a talented craftsperson and creates original, one-of-a-kind jewelry. She enjoys working on projects with her daughters and also finds time for a full-time free-lance career. Mary Tucker is a freelance writer who enjoys working on projects of all kinds for all ages. She is the editor of Shining Star magazine for religious education teachers and is a regular contributor to other educational activity magazines. In her spare time, Mary loves to read almost anything, walk her Dog Digby and sing.
