

(Free read ebook) Postcolonial Comics: Texts, Events, Identities (Routledge Research in Postcolonial Literatures)

Postcolonial Comics: Texts, Events, Identities (Routledge Research in Postcolonial Literatures)

From Routledge

*DOC | audiobook | ebooks | Download PDF | ePub

DOWNLOAD

READ ONLINE

#5567303 in Books 2015-05-04Original language:EnglishPDF # 1 9.02 x .63 x 5.98l, .0 #File Name: 041573813X246 pages | File size: 39.Mb

From Routledge : Postcolonial Comics: Texts, Events, Identities (Routledge Research in Postcolonial Literatures) before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Postcolonial Comics: Texts, Events, Identities (Routledge Research in Postcolonial Literatures):

0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. I do not watch a lot of satisfaction, but a few days ago a friend recommended I think 's products, I feel very buy used roBy CustomerIt is a grat product that deserved to recommend. it seems to be well worth the money I spent on it. I bought this for my family, it's really good, they really like it. They have the name of the label, and so on, I'm sure I'll order it again. I can not wait to use. worth the buy this is my second purchase, and I will surely purchase again!

This collection examines new comic-book cultures, graphic writing, and bande dessinée texts as they relate to postcolonialism in contemporary Anglophone and Francophone settings. The individual chapters are framed within a larger enquiry that considers definitive aspects of the postcolonial condition in twenty-first-century (con)texts. The authors demonstrate that the fields of comic-book production and circulation in various regional histories introduce new postcolonial vocabularies, reconstitute conventional "image-functions" in established social texts and political systems, and present competing narratives of resistance and rights. In this sense, postcolonial comic cultures are of particular significance in the context of a newly global and politically recomposed landscape. This volume introduces a timely intervention within current comic-book-area studies that remain firmly situated within the "U.S.-European and Japanese manga paradigms" and their reading publics. It will be of great interest to a wide variety of disciplines including postcolonial studies, comics-area studies, cultural studies, and gender studies.

About the AuthorBinita Mehta is Professor of French and Director of the International Studies Program at Manhattanville College, U.S. where she teaches a variety of courses in French language, literature, and film. She is the author of Widows, Pariahs, and Bayadres: India as Spectacle (2002) and has published several articles and book chapters on French and Francophone literature and film, South Asian diasporic cinema, and on the Francophone bande dessinée. Pia Mukherji earned her doctorate in English Literature from the Graduate School and University Center of the City University of New York, U.S. Her research and publications are in the areas of British modernism, new-media texts, and diasporic cultures. She has taught a variety of courses on modernism, postcolonial literatures, film studies, and writing in the New York and Boston areas.