Greice Schneider : What Happens When Nothing Happens: Boredom and Everyday Life in Contemporary Comics (Studies in European Comics and Graphic Novels) before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised What Happens When Nothing Happens: Boredom and Everyday Life in Contemporary Comics (Studies in European Comics and Graphic Novels):

Contemporary graphic novels show an interesting shift from the extraordinary to the ordinary in slice-of-life stories in which nothing happens. This book brings a historical, aesthetic, and narratological approach to comics in which boredom is not only a topic but also awakens a deliberate affective response in the very experience of reading. This volume brings together close readings of work by Lewis Trondheim, Chris Ware, and Adrian Tomine.

About the Author Greice Schneider is associate professor of Communications at the Universidade Federal de Sergipe (Brazil). Raphael Baroni is Associate Professor at the University of Lausanne (Switzerland).
